Camp parent - "Camp Prime Time was my first experience of a truly inclusive community and changed my thinking about where my family belongs in the world - smack dab in the middle of the fun!"

Over the past 25 years, Camp Prime Time has changed lives for special families all over the northwest, and beyond, by providing a unique and refreshing camping experience. Families with children who are seriously ill or disabled come to camp for a weekend at no cost to them, enjoy meals prepared by volunteers, boat rides, horseback riding, hikes, accessible tree house, and time just to reconnect as a family unit. It's "prime time" for very special families.

Camp parent - "This was our first time at CPT, and we have thoroughly enjoyed a relaxing, supportive, and adventure-some experience. Our son has only ridden horses one other time when he was very young, and he loved it. My husband and I felt comfortable enough to leave our son with another family and go for a ridge hike! That was rare! You all have been so generous, so loving, and so hard working. Thank you deeply for your time!"
